

YOUTH WORKSHOP WITH SDGA AT ADGA NATIONALS

SDGA supports & encourages healthy, regenerative, & profitable dairy goat production systems by providing the necessary tools & resources to producers & veterinarians

Students, do you want to dig deeper into industry topics that impact dairy goat farming?

Join Sustainable Dairy Goat Agrisystems (SDGA) on June 29 or June 30 during the ADGA National Show in West Springfield, Massachusetts, for a hands-on workshop led by Iowa State University & University of Tennessee, Knoxville. The goal for this workshop is to have participants learn more about the business and marketing aspects of the dairy goat industry. Participants will learn through hands-on activities about business 101, budgets, financial analysis, and how they can apply the principles in their own operation.

Note: Both sessions will cover the same topics. Please sign up for the session that doesn't conflict with the show schedule.
